

Max Beckmann

Tell me oh Rainbow
That knows
Why is the quest counterstained?

Tell me oh Rainbow
To draw
Will the bridge in the colors collide
Or fall in the vanished inclined?
Is there left any light worth the find?

Tell me oh Rainbow
From earth
Can you carry the vision from all
Who are cleansed in the journey of sight?
Is there left any are for the night?

Tell me oh Rainbow
To link
Is the path in the grass surrounds
Or is the pink from your glow?
Is there left any found in the flow?

Tell me oh Rainbow
To gain
Must not your arch claim the rain
Prayed at the roots of all grass?
Is there left any glance at the glass?

Tell me oh Rainbow
What is
Above violet, life that remains
To be opened as love over song?
Is there left any for those that's strong?

Tell me oh Rainbow
That's known
Where is the Beauty contained?

Tell me oh Rainbow
To draw
On the train of the mind how's the arc
Prepared for its climb through the drift?
Is there left in the vapor a craft?

Tell me oh Rainbow
That's lost
From below which would look
For the source in the clouds?
Is there left any comfort in crowds?

Tell me oh Rainbow
In clouds
Can we join in the gift serenade
As the music in violin's range?
Is there left any shield but the change?

Tell me oh Rainbow
What glows
At the edge of your entrance a blaze,
A peach or a cherry which blooms?
Is the center the blossom that looms?

Tell me oh Rainbow
What prisms
In vision the track in the haze
Of the forest through leaves?
Is the Beauty a cycle which grieves?