

The Knight Thrown Away

"But white stands for purity"

"Come with me

For my gloves stain in black as you see."

"Know -

It's the beginning of life

To slave

In the freedom of choice

To its end

I'm sorry I'm married

With destiny

Shared in a glance to impart

How you'll find -

Know it not?"

"You'll own me as not though in truth

I hold purity off in my smile

And that glance will not part

Again, never, no never

We'll meet

Past this night thrown away."

"If only one's giving returns"

Bitter styled

As belief false unknown, shared, beguiled."
