

A seed in the sky

I threw a seed in the sky and a tree grew from its roots without roots
I gazed on the past as it grew
- as the tree dreamed in its sea -

A tree dream?

As the glacier melts
so is the sky
Graping the forest in dreams
The mask of the desert humaine
Dancing in flights of the lights.

I threw the seed in the sky and the rains came To rebound
Black in the black of the storm
I gazed on the past as it's through Solid its glass
That has suffered in straw.

I dreamed - and I knew it aright a film, created replaced a film perceived but only in light I dream - and I know it as true
- the waters expressing the fire -

I threw that seed in the sky and it drank
But of nothing but joy
To compound
In virtue the light of the sky
- and the tree dreamed,
Love
It was I -